

840bhp GTA Spano

Thursday, 14 May 2009

Spanish automaker, GTA, certainly knows how to surprise the entire crowd. Their latest technological wonder, the GTA Spano, can reach 0 to 60 miles per hour in just 2.9 seconds. With its top speed of 217 miles per hour, I'm sure that the GTA Spano is pretty hard to beat.

Of course, the GTA Spano somehow 'borrowed' Dodge Viper's massive 8.4L V10 engine. Coupled with a supercharger, the engine can produce a whopping 780 horsepower. On the other hand, the engine can in fact churn out 840 horsepower when running on ethanol – which makes me wonder, how can we obtain bucket loads of ethanol to feed the monstrous 8.4L V10 engine?

The price tag on this piece of revolutionary machinery? It's up for grabs at $670,000.
