Subaru came a long way when it comes to their SUV. In fact, the 2009 Subaru Forester 2.5X Premium went through a major facelift, which I think the new outlook definitely fits the entire car's personality. However, although the car is huge, I still feel that it lacks internal leg space for the driver and the back occupants. Just take a look at the internal snapshot and make your judgment.

Here are some photos of the 2009 Subaru Forester 2.5X Premium.
