

Honda Civic LX-S

Friday, 05 June 2009

The Honda Civic LX-S is yet another economical sedan out in the market. In fact, the Honda Civic LX-S runs on a 1.8-liter engine which gives the car a total of 140 horsepower. However, the car has low torque, thus this might pose as a problem if you drive in hilly terrains. The car can give you 26/35 mpg on its 5 speed manual or automatic transmission.

Here are some snapshots of the Honda Civic LX-S.